

Geiger e-mails

by Corascendea Cathar

Below is the exchange of e-mails that took place between me and Geiger in December 2012. They show that I was made aware on the day I met Geiger that he was not a kind compassionate and caring person the BBC would have liked to paint him, but someone who, via his writing, exploited and benefited from the pain of others.

My comments are marked separately. The order is from the last email to the first one.

Geiger introduced himself under the false name of Chris Prior.

Subject: Diet

Geiger claimed to the media that I charged him £90 for a diet. (A bad diet that would have harmed him.) It was a detox diet for two months.

Dear Chris,

I have now prepared your diet sheet. Please find it attached.

Please take a few days to see how you can cope with it. ONLY if you are happy, if you go ahead with it and feel that it is doing you good, only then you may transfer a payment covering 3 hours of my time (£90) into my account. This would be £60 for the diet sheet at £30 for inserts on remedies and additional personal advice.

DR C CATHAR
Bank sort code: xx xx xx
Ac No: xxxxxxxx

I was again delayed in completing the sheet, because my computer got infected with the mocaflix virus and I had to seek help from various sources, which took up a day. I still am not sure how far I got with it, but it occurred to me that the guy who is responsible is in fact, spreading, deliberately and maliciously, a form of cancer. I am lucky to know one guy who knows about these things a little and he revealed to me that mocaflix is a marketing tool to get people to buy antivirus, and certainly, Avast advised me to contact 3 sources, while those wanted full payment before tackling the virus. So they all are in it, and they all share the profit from spreading this evil, which is distressing to some people, including me. Then they ask "why me" when they reap what they sowed. My mind boggles that there are people capable of spreading distress to so many people, for money.

I presume that you are in the States and hope that you are having a great time.

Other events that surround my meeting someone often have a symbolic meaning. By replacing only a few names, the mocaflix story fits perfectly my meeting Geiger:

... it occurred to me that the guy who is responsible is in fact, spreading, deliberately and maliciously, a form of cancer. I am lucky to know my Guide who knows about these things a little, and he revealed to me that it is about a marketing tool to get people to buy chemo, etc. and ... I was advised to contact 3 sources, while they only wanted money.

So they all are in it, and they all share the profit from spreading this evil, which is distressing to some people, including me. Then they ask "why me" when they reap what they sowed. My mind boggles that there are people capable of spreading distress to so many people, for money.

Hello Chris,

Spiritual healer who claims she can 'beat cancer with cabbage' slammed by medics

January 14, 2013 | by SWNS Reporter |

Please take in to your heart all of the contents of the Cathar

Testament. Do not just read it with your eyes. That would be a waste of time.

You must be able to follow every meaning of it and then start acting according to it, and it will have to be unconditional. No cutting corners, no exceptions, no excuses. Else we fail. In order that you understand how important every detail is, I gave you two examples of failures, or only partial successes of people I closely worked with in the past. I became so disappointed, that I went to earning my money as a linguist and continued focusing on spiritual tuition. I continued healing sick animals and working with a couple of long term clients who seemingly refuse to give up till the end of their lives.

My Guide indicated that full success with you is not impossible. That is why I am prepared to give it a go.

I am sure that Kirsty will be helping you, as women are by nature more intuitive and in tune with their inner selves and hence can guide others in that sense, too. Not to say, that people's spiritual paths are intertwined and yours cannot be separated from hers. All the better, if you both can work together. It will not be easy and it will not be what you want to hear.

Life is a school of ability to act to the highest good of all. That is what you must understand, above all. It is not about your fulfilment and happiness; it is about everyone's fulfilment and happiness. All suffering stems from the Ego. Only some Souls have no future (and their lives seem uneventful and sometimes even superficially "happy") and those who have a future have tasks to do. The brighter is the future aimed for, the harder are the tasks to get there.

I will get on with the diet, it may take me up to 2 hours to complete. I hope to have it by the evening. I also need to do other things today.

With my very best wishes to you, and to your cats.

Please make sure they do not give hell to other people by killing birds and other small wildlife in gardens of people who care about wildlife. That too, counts. If the cats bring in wildlife, maybe you want to consider cat-netting up your own back garden which would keep the cats, and the wildlife safe.

Hello Dr Cathar,

as i said in our meeting, i may not understand it all yet but i am willing to try anything to beat this cancer.

i am going to take some time to read your website in more detail before making our next appointment.

in the meantime, i'd like to get started on the diet - it'd be great if you could send it through as soon as is good for you.

cheers,

chris

Subject: The task

Dear Chris and Kirsty,

I will get to a detailed diet in the evening if you feel that you can accept and successfully tackle the main task.

It is in fact obvious, but my Guide did not want me to see it immediately, as Chris described his dream.

As I understood it, this was the dream:

Chris was in an ugly building of red brick where he worked for a long time. He sat in front of a computer with a bright green screen, staring into it, and feeling happy.

This is how little the Guide needs to tell everything.

I explained that in spiritual language, a house of red brick means a lot of struggle, hardship, material and/or emotional.

I also explained that green colour means love. I felt that this described your situation; Chris experiences anxieties while happy with ...

He wants to keep this.

God wants to take it away.

Because God wants the best for Chris.

Chris' problem is that he is happy to be staring into his green screen, while he works for a long time in an (ugly) building of red brick. This means that he is happy to focus his being on his own little happiness, while he is surrounded with pain.

Only he and God know whether this is pain on which he actually worked, to which he had been contributing, or pain which he could have somehow addressed, but could not be bothered, for his dedication focused on his own little green screen.

NB: Red emphasis added. I asked Geiger to describe to me his recent dream, or tell me the first thing that comes to mind.

This e-mail needs to be read in conjunction with http://www.cathar.org.uk/data/articles/What_was_Geiger_diagnosis.pdf

Conventionally minded people, even if they claim to be “spiritual”, create for themselves perceptions and terminology which in their own mind, excuses their selfishness.

The moral of the story is: “You cannot build your happiness on the pain of others who loved you.”

I am not saying that something similar applies to Chris.

Instead, it could be that he is oblivious to the suffering of third parties he is not directly responsible for, and chooses to believe that doing anything, or speaking out, is not up to him. This is a scenario millions of people choose, but not all of them are Souls with high expectations on themselves.

The immediate task:

Sit down and think of options. How could this principle apply to Chris, and how can he view and treat those issues differently.

The way I see it, there is no other way to success.

Every Soul creates its own path.

The diet will have to be strict to be effective, and I can tell, that it will include 4 times a week organic aduki beans. They are an extremely versatile source of protein and can be prepared in many ways.

The Essiac tea freshly brewed daily on an empty stomach and throughout the day, for detox and to cleanse the kidney(s).

Lack of calcium greatly supports the growth of tumours in the body.

Local organic fruit instead of citrus fruit.

More will follow if you confirm that you can respond constructively to your task. I will never need to know the details or your privacy. It is between you and your Guide, I am just helping to bridge your relationship.

Kind regards,

Corascendea.

thank you for this Dr Cathar,

we are off to America early next week - so would be grateful if you could send through what Chris needs dietwise so I can get him started!

also, what is it that your guide told you as we left?

Speak soon,

Kirsty x

Hello Chris and Kirsty,

As you were leaving, my Spirit Guide gave me the useful clue of your dream. I nearly ran after you to tell you, but it will be better, if I describe. Please be prepared for unexpected criticism; it will come from someone who loves you as your best friend or as your father, your own Guide, and telling you the Truth whether you like it or not, is the best and most important thing they can do for you. (Please look up section on Guides in the Cathar Testament.)

I will also prepare the diet. I should find time to do that in the next day or so, and will forward.

When we have those two ingredients, we should already be heading in the right direction.

I know this is probably a whole new world for you, but it is the real world you live in. It is where you came from with specific goals, and where you are aiming to return in due course, hopefully, with full trophies...

The rest is just a delusion. You will learn this for yourselves, when you find out who you really are.

Hope you get a good sleep and remember all dreams! Every detail counts. That way you are guided yourself, and I will be pleased to teach you the language. It is incredibly funny, sometimes, in particular as the Guides

I did not like the sound of Geiger when he made the initial telephone contact. He asked me: "How long will it take you to heal me of cancer". While my website Dhaxem.com, on which he claimed he found me, made it clear that no-one will heal anyone of anything; everyone can only heal themselves, and I reiterated that on the phone.

Geiger nevertheless insisted to come to see me and my Guide asked me to go along. In 2002, when my Guide started openly speaking to me, he told me that every experience that I will have will serve a good purpose.

When meeting Geiger, I could not relate to him. The interview took place between me and Kirsty Hemming who I found to be a beautiful and a naïve young person. I suspected her to work with the media and I told her that. I did not care that she claimed to be Geiger's most unlikely wife. Shortly after this event Kirsty Hemming left the BBC.

I am sure that Kirsty took away from our meeting what she needed.

Geiger and others, who created the story that appeared in the media, they too spoke to God and he heard them out.

do not care about political correctness!

I was delighted to meet you both.

Kindest regards,

Corascendea Cathar.

Hello Dr Cathar,

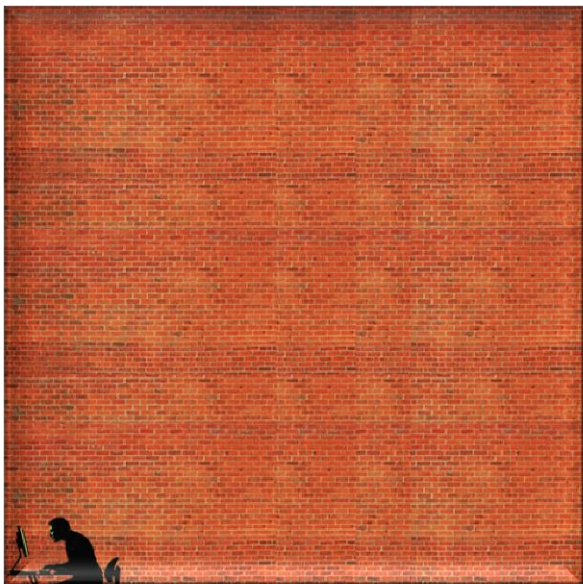

Thank you for today - you have given us a lot to think upon.

We forgot to give you my email address. It would be good if you could send through my recommended diet.

Thank you again - we'll be in touch soon.

Very best wishes,

Chris & Kirsty

Chris was in an ugly building of red brick where he worked for a long time... As Geiger spoke, my Spirit Guide showed me the interior of a giant hall which would have accommodated many floors, but there was just one. It was empty, only Geiger sat in one corner at his computer grinning and "riding" the chair he sat on as a jockey would ride a horse. It was God's language to tell me that Geiger is an inconsiderate person who derives satisfaction from the pain of a large number of other people. Geiger may have thought that he will have "invented" some nonsense to ridicule me. In fact, God presented into his own mind a perfect image of his true self. Between 1996 and 2002 I ran workshops teaching how to explain dreams and visions.
